

Occupation: Junior CS Major, Web Developer Intern

Bio: Ben is a Computer Science student. He's having a hard time organizing his schedule. He has to balance his school work, his internship, and his extracurricular activities. He knows how to use technology and adapt to new apps. He enjoys making lists and taking notes on new ideas, and he's been looking for an app that can help him with notes and scheduling.

- Keep an organized life/schedule
- Find a convenient App
- Graduate College
- Gain long term career at internship site

- Hanging out during extra curricular activities with people who share common interests
- Money to spend on social activities and tech
- Having a good relationship with his internship supervisor

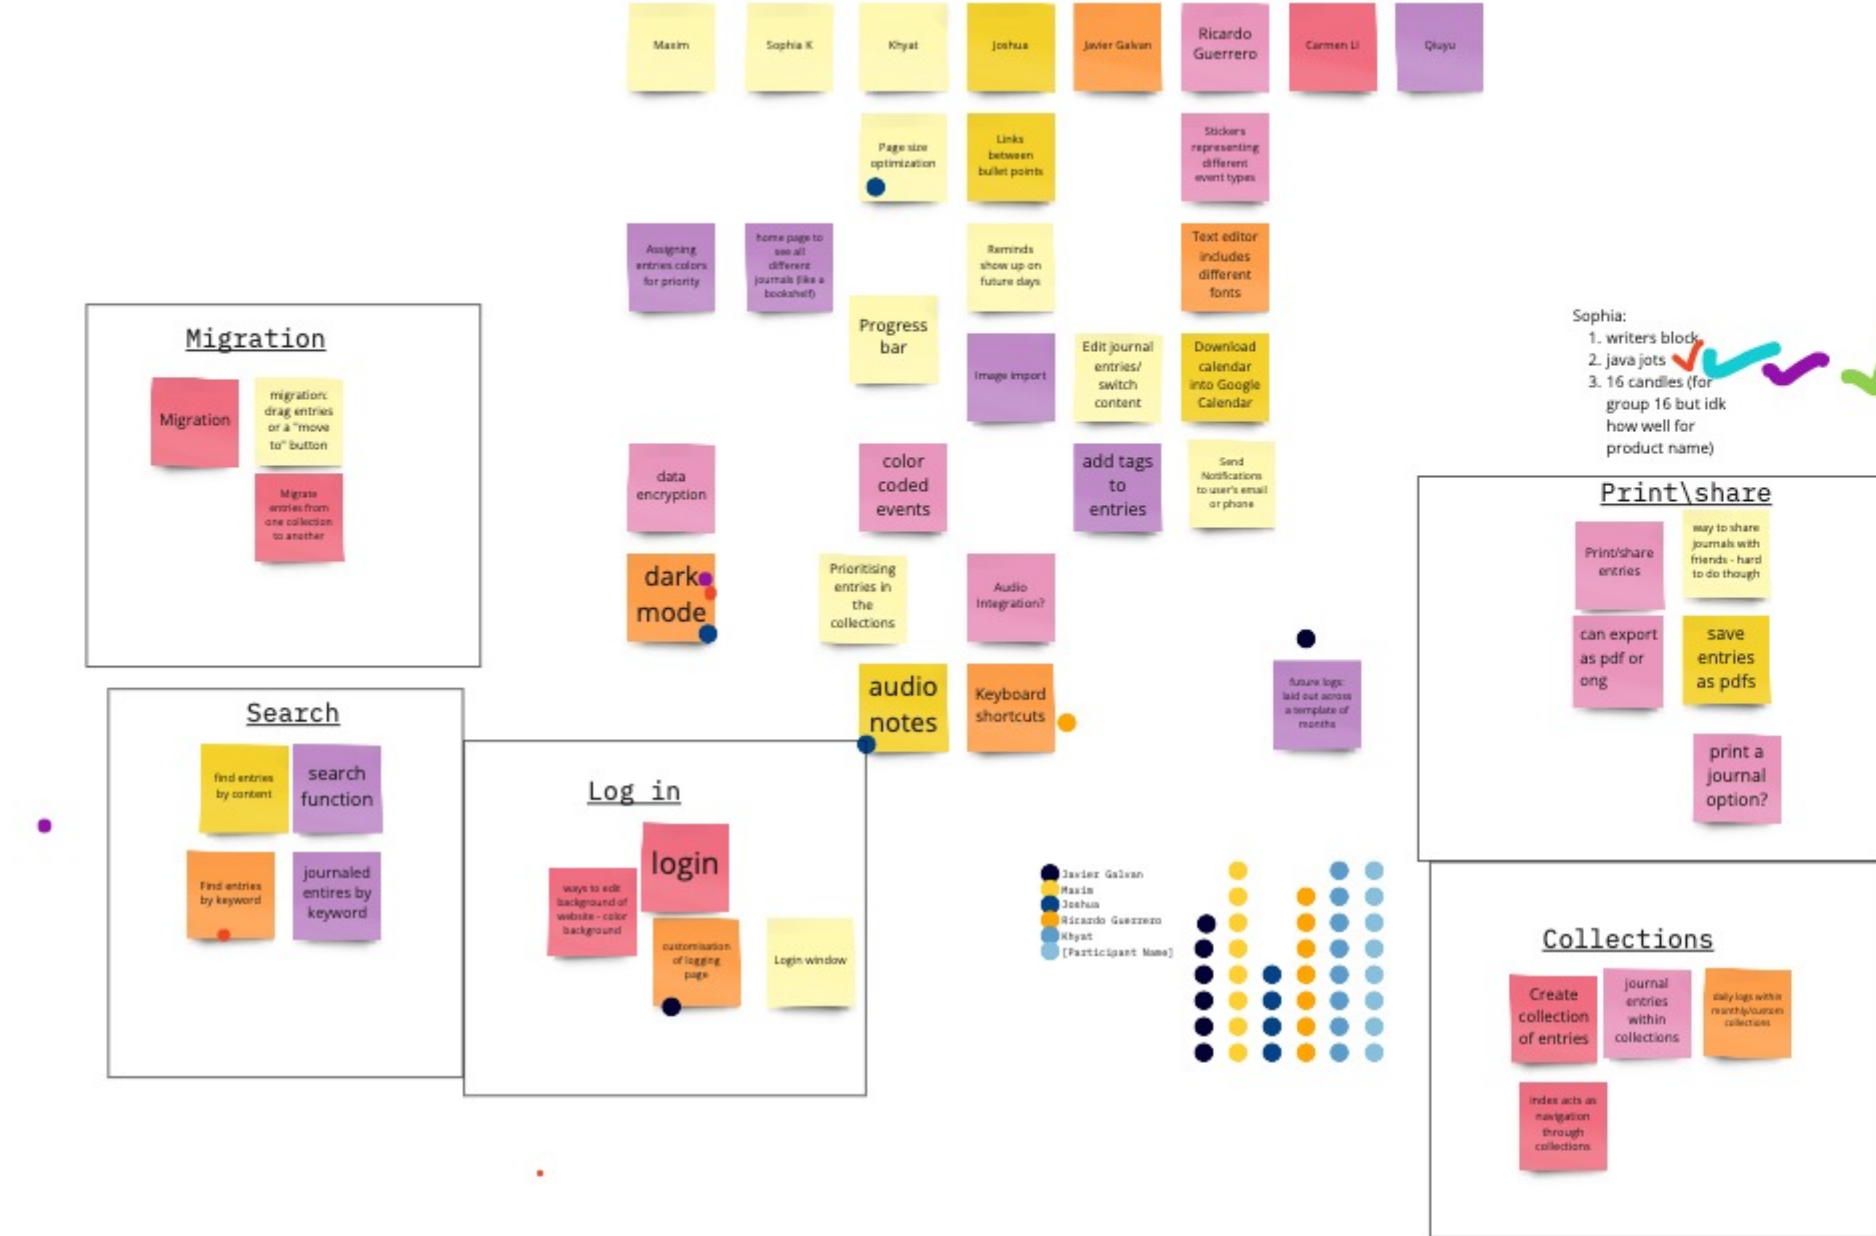

- Having too many events in one day
- Not having clear deadlines in mind
- Forgetting an event until the last minute

- Our app is the best and most convenient :)
